CAIPS RESPONSIBILITY MATRIX

1. A key component of Mission: Ready, The Canadian Army Integrated Performance Strategy (CAIPS) is the concept of responsibility and transparency. The aim of Annex C is to outline the responsibilities of four key groups with regards to readiness and resilience. These groups consist of the following:
   a. The Individual;
   b. The Chain of Command;
   c. The Canadian Army (CA); and
   d. The Canadian Armed Forces (CAF).

2. The attached appendices outline the responsibilities for each of these groups, why they are important and how they impact Readiness and Resilience. As CAIPS evolves, so will these responsibilities.

APPENDICES

Appendix 1 – Individual Responsibilities
Appendix 2 – Chain of Command Responsibilities
Appendix 3 – CA Responsibilities
Appendix 4 – CAF Responsibilities